Resumo

I've been building front-end products for 11 years — and the last 2 have been the most productive of my career, thanks to how I've integrated AI into my workflow. My core expertise is Angular (JS & 2+), TypeScript, JavaScript, HTML5, and CSS3, with strong foundations in Design Systems, Component Architecture, and UI/UX principles. I'm also actively expanding into React, applying my deep knowledge of component-based architecture to ramp up on modern React patterns and ecosystem tools. I use AI tools daily — for task breakdown and sprint planning before writing a single line of code, making architecture decisions with more confidence, and maintaining best practices throughout development and code review. What used to take hours now takes minutes. Experienced in Agile/Scrum environments, collaborating across design, backend, and product teams. Open to parallel/freelance opportunities.

Experiência

Encora Inc.

Frontend Engineer

março de 2022 - Present (4 anos 3 meses)

- Lead front-end development on a large-scale enterprise platform for a US-based client, working within a 10+ person cross-functional team serving hundreds of users.

- Inherited a codebase with no clear separation between front-end and back-end concerns — architected and implemented a near-complete layer separation, dramatically improving maintainability, testability, and team velocity.

CI&T

Frontend Developer

dezembro de 2021 - março de 2022 (4 meses)

- Contributed to a B2B product with a front-end team of 10+ developers sharing a single monorepo — navigated large-scale codebase coordination, enforced UI consistency across modules, and contributed to a shared design system.
